Much Interest Is Shown In The Stories Of The Four Candidates For The Senatorship At Primaries.

DAVIDSON SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE

Asks The Legislature To Be Careful About Granting Power Rights In The State--Stephenson Fails At Election Again.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—This senatorial inquiry has attracted all the interest away from the regular senatorial vote which occurs on Tuesday. It has become merely a perfunctory gathering with the formal protest on the part of some of the Stephenson devotees against the vote and the overruling of the motion by Lieutenant Governor Strang.

However, the solemnity of the occasion is always relieved by the votes of some of the members for other candidates than those already listed. Among those to receive this belated honor is Philip Norcross of Janesville, for whom Simon Smith cast his wandering ballot yesterday.

Thus far the ranks of the Stephenson supporters has not been broken except by absence and he still is a few shy of victory on each day. Several times it looks as though he would win, but through some evolution of the opponents he is defeated.

The bitterness that the contest has engendered is evinced in many little ways in the progress of the committee work and of the presentation of bills. It has hindered the work of the session seriously.

One of yesterday's victories against frank legislation was when the hotel men's lobby succeeded in ending the life of the nine foot bed about and it is thought ended hopes of legislation as to payment of a license for each room.

Inspection of hotels by competent inspectors was not objected to but the other measures were considered as decidedly detrimental to the business interests of the hotels through out the state and were so presented by the lobby to the committee having the bill in its custody. The inquiry meantime takes all the real interest of the session.

The examination of Isaac Stephenson, of Hutton, of Cook and McGowan, the four candidates for the senatorial nomination, has taken place,

HATTON RELATES HIS OWN PERSONAL VIEWS

Defeated Candidate for United States Senatorship Appeared Before the Senate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—William H. Hatton, of New London, who was called to the stand in the senatorial investigation, late yesterday afternoon, was the most interesting witness who has yet appeared before the joint investigators. Of particular interest was the elucidation of his ideas regarding primaries and election law in general, the expenses and election thereof, and the proper ethics of the seeker after public office. His attitude toward the primary method of seeking nomination was expressed in these words:

"My idea was that the nomination if properly made would result in the candidate receiving the nomination for United States senator being elected by the legislature. The legislature substituted the primary election law for the party convention. When the question of passing upon the regularity of the primary comes up it must rest somewhere."

In reply to a question of Mr. Bray, Mr. Hatton said he believed legislation would be passed to observe the result of the primary and he made an impressive statement regarding the duty of citizens to give their vote toward good government. He said that he knew of hundreds of men who had given their money and efforts in campaigns without compensation, and added that since before his majority he had taken part in campaigns; had attended legislatures at actual personal loss and he believed it to be the duty of citizens to do what they could to further the best interests of society.

Mr. Hatton was asked by Mr. Ingalls for his opinion of the use of newspapers for campaign purposes. Mr. Hatton said he did not approve of the use of money in influencing newspapers, because public views were largely influenced by the public press. He said newspaper advertisements, while not necessarily indicating the views and tendencies of a newspaper, might lead the public to regard such advertisements in that light.

"Would you expect the legislature to elect a candidate who had spent an unreasonable amount, or who had committed fraud?" asked Senator Husting.

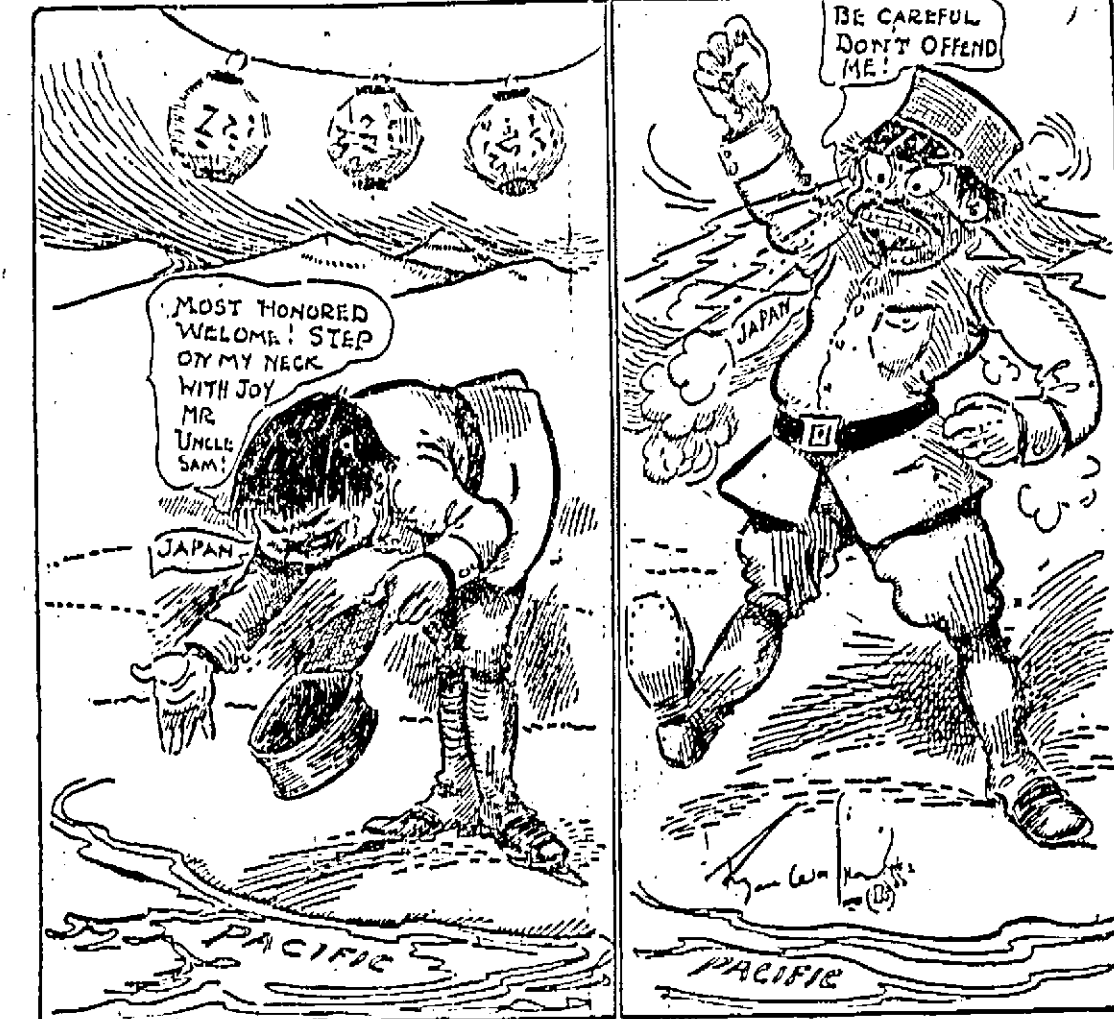

"I should not expect the legislature to elect any candidate against whom charges of fraud were given," said Mr. Hatton. "I think the legislature would be morally bound not to do so."

MAY RETIRE PULLIAM FROM LEAGUE'S PRESIDENCY

[THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Feb. 18.—The National League was reported this afternoon to stand four to four on the proposition to retire Harry Pulliam from the presidency.

COVERED HER DRESS WITH OIL IN WORKING ABOUTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, Feb. 18.—Mrs. George Allen who lives on Park avenue, was very badly burned this morning and will probably not recover. Mrs. Allen has been under the care of a trained nurse from Chicago for some months past and was thought to be improving. This morning, however, she eluded the watchers and went into the kitchen where a gasoline stove was evidently lit. When found, her clothing was in flames and the fire was put out with difficulty. This afternoon it was reported that she could not survive the injuries she had sustained.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS IS NOW IN SESSION

Twelfth Annual Conference Opened in New Orleans Today and Will be in Progress Three Days.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New Orleans, La., Feb. 18.—The twelfth annual conference of the National Congress of Mothers met in New Orleans this morning for a session of three days. More than 500 delegates have arrived, and entertainment has been provided for twelve that number. The general president, Mrs. Frederick Schmitt of Philadelphia, and all of the officers and members of the advisory council were on hand at the opening.

The visitors were cordially greeted in addresses by Mayor Lauder and others.

Two sessions daily from 10 to 11 a.m. during the remainder of this week and a Sunday afternoon session will close the congress.

"The Child in the Home, the School and the State" is the general theme around which the papers, addresses and discussions of the congress will revolve. Prominent women from all parts of the country will take part in the discussions. The program provides also for illustrated lectures by Prof. Graham Taylor of Chicago, Hugo Krause of Louisville, Lilburn Mervin of Denver, and several others.

MINNESOTA EDITORS MEET IN ST. PAUL

Welcomed by Mayor Lawler and Listen to Address by W. M. James.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18.—The home and snow of Minnesota newspapermen gathered in the capital today for the annual meeting of the Minnesota Editorial Association. The publishers and editors, representing newspapers in all parts of the state, got together this afternoon and listened to an address of welcome by Mayor Lawler and the annual address of W. M. James, president of the association. Several topics of general interest to the members were given attention and more are to be discussed tomorrow. A dinner and the entertainment of the visiting editors and their wives to-night.

DAUGHTER OF AN ADMIRAL WEDDED

Miss Shelby Converse Becomes Wife of Huntington W. Jackson at Washington, D. C.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The wedding of Miss Shelby Converse, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Converse, and Mr. Huntington W. Jackson took place in St. John's church this afternoon and was largely attended by members of the navy and others prominent in the social life of the national capital. Following the ceremony at the church there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Connecticut avenue.

SUFFRAGISTS WERE ARRESTED BY POLICE

Twenty Women Arrested This Morning Refuse to Pay Fines and Go to Jail.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Feb. 18.—Twenty suffragettes were arrested today in an attempt to present Premier Asquith with a resolution declaring for a complete and absolute franchise for women. The women refused to pay any fines and were sent to prison for terms varying from two to four weeks.

LAVENDER LADY IS GIVEN HER DIVORCE

Mrs. William J. Lemp, Jr. Gets Six Thousand a Year Alimony and Custody of Son.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18.—A decree of divorce with alimony of six thousand dollars a year and the custody of her son was awarded to Mrs. William J. Lemp by Judge Hitchcock today.

NEW ORLEANS IN FESTAL REGALIA

Big Mardi Gras Carnival Was Ushered in Today Amid the Acclaim of Thousands of Visitors.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New Orleans, La., Feb. 18.—The annual Mardi Gras carnival was ushered in today with the gorgeous street parade, tableaux and ball of the Knights of Momus. The festivities will extend over a period of six days, reaching their climax next Tuesday with the arrival of Rex, followed by grand tableaux in the evening and the spectacular parade of the Mystic Krewe of Comus.

The automobile races and numerous other sporting events on the calendar for the week are expected to result in a record-breaking attendance at the carnival this year. Already the leading hotels are filled to their capacity, while each arriving train is adding hundreds to the number of visitors in the city. Streets and buildings are lavishly decorated and the entire city presents a festal appearance.

HEARING IN TEXAS RATE CONTROVERSY

Interstate Commerce Commission is Holding its Final Session at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18.—Members of the Interstate Commerce Commission met in St. Louis today to give a final hearing in the Texas freight rate advance controversy. The rate in question were made effective by the railroads last August. At that time the Texas Railroad Commission lodged a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission, protesting that the advance in rates was unwarranted and was unfair to Texas shippers.

JERSEY LEGISLATORS WILL VISIT TRENTON AUTO SHOW

And More Moderate Attitude Toward Motorists is Expected to Result Therefrom.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 18.—An automobile show under the auspices of the Trenton Automobile Dealers' association opened today in the Second Regiment Armory and will continue until the end of the week. The exhibits are numerous and represent practically all of the leading American makes of motor cars, together with an elaborate display of sundries. One of the nights of the show has been set aside for the entertainment of the members of the New Jersey Legislature, in which body numerous measures aimed at motorists have been discussed and passed in recent years.

FLEET REPORTED AS PROGRESSING NICELY

Wireless Dispatch from the Connecticut Tails of Its Progress Towards the Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] On Board the Battleship Connecticut, via wireless, Feb. 17.—The battleship fleet was 338 miles east of Cape Henry at 8 p. m. tonight in good weather. Rear Admiral Arnold's squadron joined the fleet at noon today.

NEW CURELLS FOR THE PRIMARY LAWS

Many Measures Have Been Introduced to Bring This Important Matter Up for Consideration.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—Six brand new "curealls" for the evil of heavy primary election campaign expenditures is the total on this subject introduced by individual members of the legislature, and the committee on election in each house this week will begin battling with the measures and with their sponsors—in an effort to evolve one which is more likely to meet a majority approval and such conditions as existed in previous primary campaigns.

The striking feature of the almost every bill in the hands of the committee is that nearly every one differs from the others in the methods laid down.

Senator Bodensbath of Milwaukee, and Assemblyman Ray of Pierce county are the authors of two bills, the former's applying to cities of the first class—i. e., Milwaukee—and the others to the rest of the state, including all offices. These bills give the candidate an opportunity to file a statement of his candidacy, together with his picture, and are to be printed in a pamphlet issued by the town, village, county or by the state.

In the Milwaukee bill, it is provided that the candidate shall pay $10 for the privilege of having his picture and statement published, and after the election each candidate must file a statement showing that he has incurred no further expense, unless it be for the circulation of extra pamphlets. Violations are punishable by not to exceed a $500 fine or one year in jail, or both. The Ray bill limits the amount of campaign expenditures to 20 per cent of the first year's salary of the office aspired to, and includes in the expense allowance amounts spent by officers for the campaign.

For the privilege of having his picture and statement appear in the pamphlet, a candidate for United States senator or state office must pay $100 a page, legislative candidates $25, and circuit judges $50. A high rate is charged for extra pages and the secretary of state must mail a copy of the pamphlet to each voter.

Senator Martin's bill provides a fee for filing expenses that starts with 1 per cent for the first $100 spent and increases 1 per cent for each $100 thereafter, and the proceeds are divided equally between the state and the county. The amount received by the state goes to the common school fund.

Assemblyman Mortenson has a bill that fixes the expense limit for a candidate for United States senator at $10,000, the statement to be filed within thirty days after the primary or general election. Mr. Louch of Milwaukee allows a maximum of $7,000 for United States senators in his bill and for the rest to the candidates 10 per cent of the salary for the term of office.

CANADA AND MEXICO BOTH REPRESENTED

At Big Meeting in Washington to Discuss Plans for Convention of American Resources.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The three great political divisions of North America, Canada, Mexico and the United States, were represented in the conference which met at the White House today to discuss a plan for the conservation of the natural resources in the outgrowth of the two conservation conferences held in Washington during the past year, in which the governors of the States and Territories were the principal conferees.

Acting in the belief that the conservation of the natural resources should not be limited by the boundary lines which separate nations, President Roosevelt invited Canada and Mexico to join in the movement. The governments of both countries readily responded to the invitation. In their letters of acceptance Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the premier, and Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, expressed their cordial sympathy in the objects, and at once appointed delegates to attend the gathering.

The invitation was welcomed also by President Diaz, who appointed the following delegates to represent Mexico at the conference: Miguel A. Quevedo, president of the Commission of Forestry; Carlos Belloir, mining inspector of the Commission of Forestry, and Romulo Escobar, director of the Agricultural School of the City of Mexico.

The opening of the conference was entirely without ceremony. President Roosevelt personally greeting the visitors from Canada and Mexico and briefly explaining his views in regard to the importance of the matter to be discussed. Clifford M. Pitcher of the Forestry Bureau and several other representatives of executive departments of the United States Government took part in the discussion.

It is expected that before it adjourns the conference will take the preliminary steps in the preparation of a general plan adapted to insure the conservation of the forests, fisheries, minerals and other natural resources of North America.

PLAN A NEW SYSTEM OF COTTON GRADING

New York Exchange Meets to Discuss Important Amendments to By-Laws and Rules.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, Feb. 18.—A meeting of the full membership of the New York Cotton Exchange was held today to discuss proposed amendments to the by-laws and rules governing contracts for the future delivery of cotton on the exchange. The changes recommended were prepared by the special committee appointed by the exchange last summer. A date for voting on the proposed amendments will be set later.

Among the "important" changes recommended are the establishing of a "spinnings" contract, and confining the grades deliverable on this proposed contract to the range from "strict low middling" to "good middling" white cotton. Under no circumstances would any cotton below "strict low middling" be deliverable on this contract, and if delivered above "good middling" no deliverable it should be with the proviso that such grades higher than "good middling" should be deliverable only at the price of "good middling."

The adoption of the changes recommended by the special committee would necessitate the restoration of the so-called quarter, or intermediary grades. These intermediary grades were abolished on Jan. 1, 1908. While the restoration of these grades would be in the nature of an admission that a mistake had been made by the exchange in doing away with them, it is believed by the committee that the restoration of quarter grades would broaden the market and tend to attract outside buyers for delivery to spinners and the trade, as the so-called quarter grades are generally recognized in the South between producer and buyer.

FRUIT-GROWERS ARE IN SESSION AT WINNIPEG

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 18.—With the preliminary promise of a successful session, the Western Horticultural Society opened its annual convention today at the Manitoba Agricultural College. The attendance was large and representative and included prominent fruit growers and others interested in horticulture from various parts of Manitoba, Ontario and Saskatchewan. Horticultural experts of note are to be heard at the several sessions, which will continue over tomorrow. Reports of officers and committees filled the greater part of the programme at the initial session this afternoon.

CALLS ASSAULT ONE THAT WAS "FRAME UP"

Chief of Chicago Detectives Says Miss Gingles Was Not Assaulted in Wellington Hotel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Feb. 18.—Chief of Detectives O'Brien today declared the alleged assault upon Ella Gingles, whose unconscious, bound and gagged form was found in the Wellington hotel bathroom yesterday, was a "frame-up" and that there had been no assault. He now asserted that even blood in the bathtub was composed largely of port wine. The girl is at the hospital little the worse, for her exposure.

BLACK AND OLIVE SHOE

Many And Various Phases of Activity —Potent And Promising—Industries.

At this time it is cheering to glance in retrospect at the financial depression of 1907 and note how completely this city has recovered from its effects, in common with every other city. Make the rounds of the manufactories and you will be amply convinced that such is the case. For the proprietors of these concerns are all hugely complacent—or else they are too rushed with orders to be that.

To make the rounds of the manufactories and the sundry other interests is to walk past open furnace doors; rudely with the blazing coals of vivid prosperity.

In a few cases the entire force of employees is not working but as the season advances the men who have been dropped out will be needed to resume their places. For instance, there is the New Doty Manufacturing company which is at present employing fifty hands and expects to take on more as conditions grow brighter.
This concern makes punching and showering machinery and disposes of it in all parts of the nation.

The Rock River Machine Foundry is running full time and uses sixteen men for the present. Later it expects to employ twice that number, which is the normal quantum.

Thoroughgood and Co., makers of elaborate boxes and cigar boxes, are running with a full force. The Rock River Cotton company is also running with a full force and in a monetary way is gaining with each month.

The Blodgett, Ryan and Blodgett flour mills never run with their full force at this time of the year, but by October their average output will be usual, average 500 barrels a day and the quota of men will be added to add.
At the present writing, the average output is 400 barrels a day, and conditions in general are reported normal.

The Wisconsin Canning company, working all its men, reports that its orders are booked ahead for as many as five months.

H. S. Becknell of the Becknell Manufacturing and Supply company states that he has plenty of orders for future fulfillment and that his jobbing department output has increased in volume as over against that of last year. There is a good outlook for all the departments, he states.

Manager Henry Nickel of the Western Shoe company reports that he has orders booked for three weeks ahead and that though the full force of employees is at work steadily, more help is needed, especially girls skilled in the sewing. For the next forty days this manufactory will turn out exclusively 8,000 pairs of a black and olive outing shoe, which came into vogue for the first time last season.
It takes thirty minutes for the workmen to complete a single pair of shoes; 1500 of the staple product are made in a week on the average.

This is the company that sold a pair of
No. 15 shoes last week and Manuger Nickel recalls an instance where a negro was able to obtain a No. 20 shoe, to fit his fairly foot, from a firm in St. Louis. The next shoe venture of the local company will be the introduction here on a large scale of a high-top shoe which has won high favor in fashion centers.

The Janesville Clothing company recently announced that the money stringency of 1907 did not in the slightest affect the number of their employees or volume of their output and that their business runs ever on the even tenor of its way. Especially is it flourishing just at the approach of the spring season.

J. P. Chiles's planing mill, which takes general contracting and does interior finishing of all kinds, is quiet until the last part of April, when all building contractors begin to work if unfavorable weather does not prevent.

The Milwaukee Elevator company states that the condition of the roads is now too poor to enable very great traffic in flour, bran, middlings, etc., which in due season will yield the customary profits to this concern. When thawing time comes in autumn, the maximum volume of traffic in these lines will be under way.

The Janesville Copper Cable Lightning Rod company is predicting a thriving season that will begin about the first of April. Even now, the full force of employees is working full time.
Its agents are out on the road drumming up orders and 150,000 feet of the commodity are contracted for so far.

AN EARLY PAPER ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

This Will Be a Necessity Owing to the Moving of the Printing Department to New Building.

On Saturday the final pieces of heavy machinery and equipment of the Gazette will be transported from its present home to the new Westvick building at the corner of East Milwaukee and North Bluff street. The moving of a printing establishment such as the Gazette, is not accomplished without considerable planning and careful arrangement of the smallest details. The job department was the first to be transported to its new home and then followed the other departments as rapidly as possible leaving but the essential articles necessary for publishing a newspaper until Saturday. The Gazette will be published at noon on Saturday and as soon as the forms on the big press down stairs are off the work of dismantling the linotypes will begin and the news room, editorial room, business office and finally the big press will be taken to the new building and installed on Sunday, to be ready for the edition of Monday.

It is a gigantic undertaking and a special corps of trained men will be needed to have everything in shape for the work of the paper on Monday.
The public is asked to excuse the early paper Saturday and perhaps a late paper on Monday, but are assured both editions will be replete with interesting news.

Highlands, and upon their season will include all of these cities. The tour will be made in three automobiles and the Janesville engagement will be played on the wind-up, return games, it is expected, will be arranged from time to time after the initial contests have been disposed of.

ing each day.

It is only a simple question of trying it for oneself in order to know the joy of returning health as realized by an ill, young lady. She writes:
"I had been a coffee drinker nearly all my life and it affected my stomach—caused indigestion and I was seldom without a headache. I had heard about Postum and how beneficial it was, so concluded to quit coffee and try it.

"I was delighted with the change.
I can now sleep well and seldom ever have headache. My stomach has gotten strong and I can eat without suffering afterwards. I think my whole system greatly benefited by Postum.

"My brother also suffered from stomach trouble while he drank coffee, but now, since using Postum he feels so much better he would not go back to coffee for anything."

NEW INDUSTRIES
ARE STARTING UP

JOHN C. NICHOLS HARNESS COM-PANY AND JANESVILLE CIGAR COMPANY IN FIELD.

FILED ARTICLES TODAY

Will Establish Factories Immediately And Begin Manufacture of Their Respective Lines of Goods.

Two new industries are to be added to Janesville's list of factories within the next few weeks. Articles for the John C. Nichols harness company and the Janesville Cigar company were filed with Register of Deeds Worldwide this morning, after having been approved by Secretary of State James Frazar, at Madison.

The John C. Nichols harness company is capitalized at fifteen thousand dollars, the incorporators being John C. Nichols, W. C. English, and J. J.
Sheridan. It plans to manufacture harness exclusively and will start manufacturing on the road representing the company.

Mr. Nichols, the president of the company, said this morning relative to his future plans: "To start with, we shall simply manufacture harness although we may branch out in doubling in wholesale saddlery supplies and other manufactured articles.

"At present our work will be to place ten lines of harness on the market as leaders and build up the business. We shall have traveling salesmen on the road, and from present indications think the prospects bright for a successful venture.

"To start with we will employ ten men and will increase our working force as rapidly as it is found necessary. Our incorporation is for fifteen thousand dollars—one hundred shares at one hundred and fifty dollars each —which will be enough capital to start with."

Mr. Nichols has had experience in the line of business he is embarking in having for nine years been employed at the Russell and Echlin factory as foreman, recently resigning to go into business for himself.

The other new concern, the Janesville Cigar company is organized with a capital stock of $2,000 and has fifteen stockholders. Patrick Carlin, Herman Bugas and T. F. Abbott are the incorporators.

In speaking of the project Mr. Carlin said: "I see no reason why Janesville should not be a cigar manufacturing center. With this idea in view we have formed the Janesville Cigar company and will put on the market a good line of goods."

"William Dougherty, an expert cigar maker, who has had his own factory and been associated with some of the leading companies in the city, will be our foreman, and we expect to place on the market ten and five cent grades of standard brand.

"We will open March first and expect to occupy a portion of the Norcross block on River street where we will have time to increase our business as demanded. To start with we shall have eight or nine first-class workmen and hope ultimately to employ twenty."

WARMER WEATHER IS REPORTED COMING

Even Rain or Snow Can Be Expected Tonight with Rising Temperature Tomorrow.

Who ever saw a Washington Birthday without a February thaw? How else could Young America light over again the battles of the Revolution, show how the Yankees defeated the Red Coats at Bunker Hill, except by snow battles? The weather man has arranged the weather to suit. He promises to give the "boy" of America, especially Janesville, a good-sized thaw and sends out his notice that it will either snow or rain tonight. It is not too hard, will make things all right as tomorrow is to be warmer with rising temperature. Upper Michigan is to have snow and Illinois is to have the same climate as Janesville, rain or snow.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Surprised on Birthday: Miss Agnes Cronk was surprised by a company of thirty friends at her home on Dodge street last evening and presented with a handsome comb as a birthday anniversary token. The evening was devoted to games and a general good time, and tempting refreshments were served. Miss Sarah

WRONG BREAKFAST.
Change Gave Rugged Health.

Many persons think that for strength they must begin the day with a breakfast of meat and other heavy foods.
This is a mistake as anyone can easily discover for himself.

A. W. Va. carpenter's experience may benefit others. He writes:

"I used to be a very heavy breakfast eater but finally indigestion caused me such distress, I became afraid to eat anything.

"My wife suggested a trial of Grape-Nuts and as I had to eat something or starve, I concluded to take her advice. She fixed me up a dish and I remarked at the time that the quality was all right, but the quantity was too small—I wanted a saucerful.

"But she said a small amount of Grape-Nuts went a long way and that I must eat it according to directions.
So I started in with Grape-Nuts and cream, 2 soft boiled eggs and some crisp toast for breakfast.

"I cut out meats and a lot of other stuff I had been used to eating all my life and was gratified to see that I was getting better right along. I concluded I had struck the right thing and stuck to it. I had not only been eating improper food, but too much.
"I was working at the Carpenter's trade at that time and thought that unless I had a hearty breakfast with plenty of meat, I would play out before dinner. But after a few days of my 'new breakfast' I found I could do more work, felt better in every way, and now I am not bothered with indigestion.

Our Light
Hardware
Department

It has been our policy to carry such light hardware as is generally wanted by the housewife and it is always marked at prices from 5c to 25c lower than you have been in the habit of paying.

The stock we carry will serve all purposes for which it is intended, and though it be lower priced, it is not cheap, shoddy goods.

A visit to our store will prove that our goods are as

LOCAL ATHLETICS AND DOPE ON THEM

Coming Games and the Pentathlon Contest of Last Evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Last night at the fourth monthly Pentathlon contest in the Y. M. C. A., the gold medal donated by O. H.
Pyper was won by Sterling Campbell, with Victor Reed as a close second.
Campbell won three firsts and tied with Reed for a fourth. The medal has been held by Victor Terry during the past month as winner in the third contest.

The results of the contest were as follows: Push-up—Campbell, first; Reed, second; Hagen, third; number of times, 25. Pull-up—Campbell and Reed tied for first; McCarthy, second; Hagen, third; times, 16. Squat-up—Campbell, first; Reed, second; Hagen, third; times, 20. 30-yard dash—Reed, first; Hagen, second; McCarthy, third; time, 3 3/4 seconds.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. basketball team plays Milton, whom it beat by a score of 38 to 35 last time it met them. Much feeling is being maintained over the game which the local five played with Janesville last week and which resulted in a decision of 10 to 10 in favor of the visiting five.
On Monday next, the locals will meet Janesville again, this time in the gymnasium of the latter, and an intense contest will ensue.

Tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. the following home aggregations will be pitted against each other: Naps vs. Tigers, Gluts vs. Pirates, Sox vs.
Cubs.

On the same evening Stoughton high school meets Janesville high school in Janesville. This is the local line-up: Wilkinson, Robertson, Hemming, Murphy, Korst, Cunningham.

DIVIDING THE NAVY

Congress has before it for consideration the question of not only enlarging the naval power of this country, but also of dividing its forces by making an equal distribution of the vessels on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Opinions on this matter differ. The Chicago Tribune, one of the conservative republican organs of the country, has the following remarks to say on the subject that are worth considering:

"If congress had the power to make a cut from the navy that would leave the navy should be kept in one ocean and the other half in another. It should not exercise the power. In the first place it is not so well qualified to determine a matter of that kind as the secretary of the navy or the president. In the second place, if the navy were thus arbitrarily divided something might happen suddenly while congress was not in session which could compel the president to violate his order or imperil the interests of the country. The matter is one which should be left entirely to the discretion of the president, who will change the stations of ships from time to time as changing conditions may require.

"No doubt the Pacific states would be gratified by a division of the navy, while the eastern states would be unconcerned. But some of the demagogues of the Pacific states might utilize the presence of a powerful fleet to renew their anti-Japanese agitation. It was largely the fear of possible trouble with Japan which made them less intractable this year. It moves that fear and they might become belligerent.

"The facilities for dry-docking and repairing battleships on the Pacific coast are not so good as those on the Atlantic seaboard. That might have more weight with the navy department than it would with the senators from the Pacific coast states. They manifestly are strongly in favor of the division of the navy.

"Aside from these considerations there is no apparent reason why half the navy should not be in the Pacific for the time being. Peace prevails in both oceans and there is nothing to indicate that it will be disturbed. Battleships can be as usefully employed in practice cruises and target practice in one ocean as in the other.

"The matter will be taken in hand by Mr. Taft in due time. He is more familiar with conditions in the orient than any senator or representative. If he shall deem it expedient to have a larger fleet in the Pacific he will order it. If not, the public will believe that there are sufficient reasons for not giving the order."

CIVIC COMMISSIONS
Just at this time when aldermen are to be named, a major chosen, and other city offices filled, the question of civic reform by commission is an interesting problem. It has been tried in many localities, has been successful and while as yet an Utopian idea may live to see it tried out in Janesville some day in the distant future.

Must the aldermen go? It would seem so from the agitation that is sweeping the country in favor of government of cities by commission. Sentiment in favor of the commission system is growing. Better administration of the city's affairs, it is claimed, result. The commission system tom dlepls graft and breeds economy, wherever it has been tried it has worked with satisfaction and is productive of much good in the interest of the people. Its effect seems to be quick and effective action, ready placing of responsibility and it does away with many unnecessary officeholders who certainly would not be missed in the proper conduct of a city's business.

THE QUAKES

Reports of earthquakes and destruction of life and property come in from all parts of the world. The latest to be heard from is Persia, where in an out-of-the-way locality between five and six thousand persons were killed during the last vast shaking of the earth's surface. Since the San Francisco quake, when a vast city was tumbled to the ground, there has been a frequent repetition of the quakes that have alarmed the scientists the world over. The ways of nature can not be explained, try as hard as the cold-blooded mathematical scientist would. The reasons, the whys and wherefores of the trembling of the earth are as yet an unknown quantity despite the fact they are explained carefully by men of wisdom.

President Roosevelt may become a Roman citizen, but he will still continue to exercise his franchise as an American citizen and a resident of Oyster Bay.

Chicago has another mystery to confront its policemen with. A beautiful girl found bound and gagged in a bathroom, who tells a weird story upon regaining consciousness.

Our fleet of battleships is coming home slowly, but no one seems to worry, as they have thus far demonstrated they know how to find their way home.

Shakespeare if he lived today might liken the rotten condition of Denmark as discovered by Hamlet to the business affairs of a certain large fish industry.

Not having any real war on their hands the officers of the English navy are not after a fight among themselves. Even peace has its horrors.

There will be no question as to the thoroughness of Taft's nomination when he gets through with all his parades and so forth.

Any person who wants to keep the good opinion of his neighbor should be sure and sweep the snow off his walk after a storm.

So now that the authorities have "Siddney" Madden in hand the men whom he has been holding up for years do not want to testify.

Perhaps the Wisconsin legislature will pass a law regarding a civil service examination for all candidates for the United States Senate.

Mr. Taft has already begun to assert his own independence from any one else when he talks about his cabinet.

Those subjects of Spain that the police have to watch will not prevent the young King from learning to fly.

Misses Maude and Marjorie Barnard left this morning for Evansville, where they will visit relatives.

It will be a long time before the coal men need feel alarmed over the plan to keep warm by will power.

These recent showstorms have somewhat discouraged that sensitive bird, the hen.

It looks as though Illinois might have to get along with only one Senator after all.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.
Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.

A MARSHAL'S BATON.

Garfield said he felt like taking off his hat to every poor newsboy he met because of the possibilities under his ragged jacket.

And Napoleon said there was a marshal's baton in the knapsack of every private soldier in his armies.

Whether Napoleon believed what he said or was speaking for a purpose we may not know, but a recent writer tells of two potentially great men who did carry knapsacks in the emperor's army.

One of these veterans was named Pasteur, who, after the battle of Waterloo, returned to his trade as a tanner. Denied the advantages of an education, he determined that his son should have his chance. He worked far into the night in order to send the boy to school.

That son was Louis Pasteur, the greatest chemist and physiologist of modern times.

The veteran Pasteur had more than a marshal's baton in his knapsack.

There was another:

Napoleon died in a house on the island of St. Helena that was infested with rats. To the everlasting shame of the allies, he said, they stooped to make his last days miserable. It was the business of an Irish soldier named Sullivan to scare away the rats with the "Little Corporal" lay on his deathbed.

That Irish soldier was the grandfather of Sir Arthur Sullivan, whose music has gladdened more hearts than Napoleon's.

If Sullivan had written nothing but "The Lost Chord," he would have soothed more souls of men than Napoleon sent to their last account.

Napoleon strode the world like a Colossus. At the age of twenty-six he stopped the growth of all Europe with his whiplash, but—

In Napoleon's army were men potentially greater than he.

Despite not the day of small things. Look down upon no man.

The possibilities of every human soul are beyond the farthest dream of fancy.

It was the skeptical leaders of Jesus' time who asked, "Can any good come out of Nazareth?"

Not Cocaine

Never before in the history of medicine has it been possible to extract teeth so painlessly as I am doing right now in Janesville.

Not that I take any credit as to discovery but simply that I have at last secured.

The method which gets results. I hear this name story frequently from children, faint-hearted or strong-minded men and women.

"Dr. you never hurt me a bit."

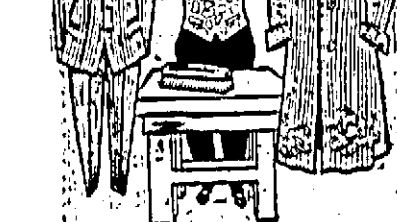

Nobody in Janesville knows what this agent is and I don't propose to tell them, only to emphatically say that it is.

"Not Cocaine or any derivative of Cocaine."

Let me demonstrate.

STOCK BITTEN BY DOG LEFT IN BARN

And John Weber Had Hand Lacerated by Same Canine—Creature's Head Sent to Madison.

John Weber, who resides on the Milwaukee road four miles east of Janesville, had one of his hands badly bitten by a pet dog last evening. The dog was left in the barn for the night, according to his custom. When going to the door this morning, he found that all the stock kept there had been bitten by the creature. In some instances very severely. Health Officer G. C. Waudin upon being informed of the circumstances advised that the animal be executed and its head forwarded to the state hygienic laboratory at Madison and this was done. It is feared that the creature was afflicted with the rabies. Mr. Weber is a brother-in-law of James Dalton of this city.

NO WILL LEFT BY LATE JOHN MYERS

Property of Estimated Value of $52,000 Will Go to Son and Widow—Fred Clemons Administrator.

In probate court yesterday Fred Clemons was appointed administrator of the estate of the late John H. Myers. The decedent left no will. In their petition the widow and son, Harold Myers, estimate the value of the real estate which he owned at $50,000 and the personal property at $2,000. The real estate will go to the son, subject to the widow's dower right, and the personal property will be divided equally between them.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Monroe in Blue Funk: "I started my business on a blue funk. I had no money; I tried to get work in two or three tobacco houses, but there was nothing doing; I haven't been up before you since 1905. Judge—couldn't you let me go this time?" This was the plea made by William Monroe who answered "guilty" to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this morning. Judge Field reminded the accused that he had not yet recovered from his debauch and sent him to the county jail for two days in the hope that he would sober up and turn over a new leaf. William Lennon was assessed a fine and costs of $4.10 with the alternative of days in jail, but was later released on condition that he go to Stoughton at once and stay there.

Bob-Ride Aid Support: Nineteen employees of the Wisconsin Telephone company enjoyed a bob-ride, followed by a supper at Andy Gibson's restaurant last evening.

I. C. RITTENBERG DIED EARLY THIS MORNING

Aged Man Passed Away at Shortly After Twelve o'clock at Home of Edward Smith.

This morning shortly after twelve o'clock I. C. Rittenberg passed away at the home of Edward Smith, 217 Dodge street. The deceased was eighty-six years old, and death was caused by the infirmities of age.

Mr. Rittenberg was born in Hamilton, Canada, Feb. 7, 1823. His parents lived here but a year and then moved to New York, which was their home. The greater part of his life was spent in Cleveland, Ohio, where he was a professor of Pennsylvania, associated with Spencer, the originator of the Spencerian penmanship. Two years ago he came home from Erie, Ohio. He leaves to mourn him four children, two sons and two daughters, Mrs. M. A. Mann of Cleveland, Mrs. Emma D. Lemon of this city, Professor C. W. Rittenberg of Whitewater, and I. C. Rittenberg, Jr., of Kansas City. His wife died five years ago. A brief prayer will be said at the residence and the remains will be taken tomorrow afternoon to United Falls, O., where services will be held in the church and the body interred in the cemetery there.

W. E. Pramer.
W. E. Pramer, an old resident of Clinton, died at the county house, aged 73 years.

PUGET SOUND CARS ARE GOING THROUGH

Freight Cars With Name, Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound R. R.

Pass Through Here.

The first of the new cars with the name, Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound R. R. painted on them, have been sent out of the Milwaukee shops of the road.

A number of these cars have been used in the freight traffic which passes through Janesville and several have been in the local yards on their way to a destination.

With the new name, a new standard of size has been adopted by the officials of the road. The old cars of the C. M. & P. R. road have a capacity only of 60,000 pounds, but under the new rating cars are being built to carry 80,000 pounds.

Maps showing the Pacific extension built by the road, have been sent out by the head of the passenger department, General Passenger Agent F. A. Miller, showing the various points along the new route.

NEW DINING CAR ON THE LIMITED TRAIN

$18,000 Car Has Been Put on North-Western Limited Arriving Here at 9:20.

A brand new dining car, the finest of the cars owned by the North-Western road, was sent out from Chicago last night on train number 305, the North-Western Limited, arriving here at 9:20. It was the initial trip of the car, but will not be the last, as the company intend to use it between here and Chicago on this train. It is switched from the train here and is sent back to the Windy City on the same train in the morning. The car is the most splendid of all the fine equipment of the road and cost the North-Western company about $18,000. It is no larger than the other dining cars but is finished and furnished in Colonial style. The new car is in charge of Conductor Harry McClure.

Substantial improvement. We learn that the gentlemen who own the property on the west side of Milwaukee street, commencing at Franklin street, and running east, have decided to erect a uniform block of stores in seven of the lots as follows: Capt. Macdonell, 1; D. Davis, 1; H. Richardson, 3; J. T. Durkee, 1. These improvements will add greatly to the appearance of that portion of Milwaukee street and to the town generally. Mr. Talmann has prepared to erect two stores on Silver street, adjoining his present store. Mr. Fredendall is getting the material ready for his new block on the corner of Main and Court streets, and we presume that Mr. Myers will commence the erection of his new building on the corner of East Milwaukee and bluff streets, as soon as practicable in the spring. It gives us great pleasure to record these contemplated improvements, showing that we do, the healthy growth of our city.

Grows Hair and we can
PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It also imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which it will grow three times a week with you desire to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows: "When I began using Danderine my hair was thinning and falling out. I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair. Now I have the most beautiful hair and think that anyone would want to have it."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other hair preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

METHODS OF NAVY ARE CRITICISED

La Follette Disapproves of the Methods Employed.

HITS SENATORIAL INFLUENCE

Declares It Causes Unbusinesslike Development of Yards and Stations—House Members in a Wangle Over the Penal Code.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate yesterday passed the naval bill which appropriates $136,000,000. The house provision for two battleships of 26,000 tons displacement was restored before the bill was passed. They will cost $3,000,000 each.

Senator La Follette severely criticized the methods of the navy, declaring that senatorial influence in the work of the department caused an unbusinesslike development of navy yards and stations.

Disavowed intent to filibuster. He disavowed any purpose of conducting a filibuster. He charged that there had been political distribution of the work of the navy. He thought there had been discrimination against the south. He also charged the maintenance of the navy yards with "immoral waste and extravagance."

Taunting Mr. Tillman with having said in speaking of naval appropriations:

"If you want to have any stealing I want my share, the senator from Wisconsin declared that was an evidence of human nature that it was not desirable to encourage."

Mr. La Follette said no senator should have a navy yard in his state should be made a member of the committee on naval affairs, but Senators Frye, Flint and others suggested that if such a policy were generally adopted on the committee on commerce, agriculture, etc., the result would become ridiculous.

The La Follette amendment providing for a commission went out on a point of order by Mr. Tillman. The senate then passed the bill.

House Wrangles Over Penal Code. An attempt to abolish capital punishment as a penalty under federal laws blocked the conclusion of consideration of the penal code bill in the house, sitting in committee on the whole. This bill was taken up after the house had become entangled in the Knox question and had laid the legislation aside for the day.

The most important amendment incorporated in the bill was one to regulate the interstate shipment of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. McCall of Massachusetts led the fight against capital punishment and when he was voted down made a point of no return. Just before this, by 25 to 27, the committee had declined to substitute electrocution for hanging.

Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1908, THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

"Then he faced into the empty cell, sat down on the cot and threw out his arms, with a hopeless cry:
"Jewell, Jewell!"

Jessie left the jail with despair in her heart. The hope on which she had fed these past days had failed her. What was there left for her to do? Like a swift wind, she went up the street to Felt's office. She groped her way up the unlighted stair and tapped on the door. There was no answer. She pushed it open and entered the empty outer room, where a study lamp burned on the desk.

A pile of legal looking papers had been set beside it, and with them lay a familiar caption gave her a stab of pain. Perhaps the news of the trial had found its way across the range to where the names of Stiles and Moreau had been known. Perhaps every one at Aniston already knew of it. She picked it up and scanned it hastily. There was no hint of the trial, but her eye caught the news which had played its role in the courtroom, and she read it to the end.

Even in her own trouble she read it with a shiver. Yet, awful as the fate which Harry Sanderson had so narrowly missed, it was not to be compared with that which awaited Hugh, for, awful as it was, it held no shame.

In a gust of feeling she slipped to her knees by the one sofa the room contained and prayed passionately. As she threw out her hands to reach the tears that came something fell with a musical clink at her feet. It was the little cross she had found in front of the hillside cabin that had lain forgotten in her pocket during the past anxious days. As she picked it up the ring at the top gave way, and the cross parted in halves. Words were engraved on the inside of the arms—a date and the name Henry Sanderson.

The recurrence of the name jarred and surprised her. Hugh had dropped it—an old keepsake of the friend who had been his best friend, his exemplar and whose ancient influence was still dominant. Life had done longingly to the wrong that friend had done him.

She looked at the date. It was May 28. She shuddered, for that was the month and day on which Dr. Moreau had been killed. The point had been clearly established today by the prosecution. To the original owner of that cross perhaps the date that had come into Hugh's life, with such a sinister meaning was a glad memory.

Suddenly she caught her hand to her cheek. A wild idea had rushed through her brain. The religious symbol had stood for Harry Sanderson, and the chance coincidence of date had brought it to the murder. To her excited senses the juxtaposition held a menace, an ominous suggestion. This cross, the very emblem of vicarious sacrifice! Suppose Harry Sanderson had never given it to Hugh? Suppose he had lost it on the hillside himself?

She snatched up the paper again. "Who has been for some months on a 'prolonged vacation'—the phrase started suddenly at her. That might carry far back—she said it under her breath, fearfully—beyond the murder of Dr. Moreau. Her face burned, and her breath came sharp and fast. Why when she brought her warning to the cabin had Hugh been so anxious to get her away from the prison? To whom he had taken her? Who was there in Smoky Mountain whom he would protect at hazard of his own life?

Jessie's veins were all a-fire. A race for murder? A double error? For it beyond possibility? It came to her like an inspiring ray of light, the old curious likeness that had sometimes been made a jest of at the white house in the aspens. Moreau and Hugh—had he believed it to be Hugh? So had the town, for the body had been found on his ground, but on the night when the murderer came again to the cabin perhaps it was his coming that had brought back the lost memory. Hugh had known the truth. In the light of this supposition, his strained manner then, his present determination not to speak, all stood plain.

What had he meant by a debt of his past that he had never paid? He could owe no debt to Harry Sanderson. It was owed him by his dead father, a thousand times more than the debt he had repaid. Could he be thinking in his remorse that his father had cast him off, counting himself nothing, remembering only that Harry Sanderson had been David Stiles' favorite and St. James', which must be smothered by the odium of its rector, the apple of his eye?

Jessie laid snatched at a straw, because it was the only buoyant thing about in the fringing tide. Now with a blind faithfulness she hugged it tighter to her bosom. One purpose possessed her—to confront Harry Sanderson. What matter though she missed the remainder of the trial? She could do nothing. Her hands were tied. If the truth lay at Aniston she would find it. She thought no farther than this. Once in Harry Sanderson's presence, what she should say or do she scarcely imagined. The horridly question-filled her thought, to the exclusion of all that must follow its answer. It was surely and self conviction she craved, only to read in his eyes the truth about the murder of Moreau.

She suddenly began to tremble. Would the doctors let her see him? What excuse could she give? If he was the man who had been in Hugh's cabin that night she had heard her speak, had known him of her coming, lost he knew beforehand of her errand. Bishop Lindlow, he could gain her access to him. Indeed, dying perhaps, maybe he did not guess that Hugh was in jeopardy for his crime. Hugh was in jeopardy for his crime. Hugh was in jeopardy for his crime. Hugh was in jeopardy for his crime.

She sprang to her feet and looked at her watch. The outstretched hand showed twelve. There was no time to lose. Minutes might count. She looked at her purse. She had money enough with her.

Five minutes later she was at the station, a scribbled note, was on its way to Mrs. Lindlow, and before a swinging red lantern the long incoming train was shuddering to a stop.

Chapter 29

In the long hospital the air was cool and filtered, and soft footfalls and voices were measured and hushed. But no sense of coolness or repose had come to the man whose racked body had been tenderly borne there in the snowy dawn which saw the blackened ruins of Aniston's most perfect edifice.

Hugh had sunk into unconsciousness with the awe struck exclamation ringing in his ears, "Good God, it's Harry Sanderson!" He had drifted back to his conscious knowledge with the same words racing in his brain. They implied that so far as capture went the old, curious resemblance would stand his friend till he betrayed himself or all the existence of the real Harry Sanderson at Smoky Mountain did so for him. The delusion must hold till he could have himself moved to some place where his secret would be safe, till he could get away.

This thought grew swiftly paramount. It overleaped the rigid agony of his burns that made the bed on which he lay a fiery furnace; it gave method to his every word and look. He took up the difficult part and, after the supernatural success dulled, complained no more and successfully counterfeited cheerfulness and betterment. He said nothing of the curiously recurrent and sickening stab of pain, searching and deep each time on his breath and left each time on his increasing giddiness. Whatever inner hurt this might be, he must hide it the sooner to leave the hospital, where each hour brought nearer the inevitable disclosure.

He thanked fortune now for the chapel game. Few enough in Aniston would care to see the unfledged, disgraced rector of St. James'. He did not know that the secret was Bishop Lindlow's own until the hour when he opened his eyes after a fitful sleep upon the latter's face.

The bishop was the first visitor, and it was his first visit, for he had been in a distant city at the time of the fire. Waiting the waiting, he had been impatient at the countenance of the man whose disappearance had cost him so many sleepless hours. The months of loneliness and rich living—on the money he had won from Harry—had taken away Hugh's slowness, and his fuller cheeks were now of the contour of Harry's own. But the face on which Hugh's new lines in the face on the pillow, an expression unfamiliar and puzzling. The firmness and strength were gone, and in their place was a haunting something that gave him a fitting suggestion of the discarded that he could not shake off.

Waking, the unexpected sight of the bishop startled Hugh. To the good man's pain he had turned his face away.

"My dear boy," the bishop had said, "they tell me you are stronger and better. I thank God for it!"

He spoke gently and with deep feeling. How could he tell to what extent he himself, in mistaken severity, had been responsible for that unconscious look? When Hugh did not answer the bishop unconsciously the bishop. He leaned over the bed. The big cool hand touched the fevered one on the white coverlet, where the ruby ring glowed, a coal in snow.

"Harry," he said, "you have suffered—you are suffering now. But think of me only as your friend. I ask no questions. We are going to begin where we left off."

"I would like to do that," said Hugh, "to begin again. But the chapel is gone."

"Never mind that," said the bishop cheerfully. "You are only to get well. We are going to rebuild soon, and we

"We are going to begin where we left off," said your judgment on the plans. Aniston is hanging on your condition, Harry," he went on. "There's a small curfew of visiting cards downstairs for you. But I imagine you haven't begun to receive yet, eh?"

"I've seen nobody," Hugh spoke hurriedly and hoarsely. "Tell the doctor to let no one come—no one but you. I'm not up to it."

"Why, of course not," said the bishop. "You need quiet, and the people can wait."

The bishop waited awhile of the parish, Hugh replying only that he must and went away, hastened. Before he left Hugh saw his way to hasten his own going. On the next visit the need was dropped in the bishop's mind so clearly that he thought the idea his own. That day he said to the surgeon in charge:

"It is changing so rapidly. I have been wondering if he couldn't be taken away where the climate will benefit him. Will he be able to travel soon?"

"I think so," answered the surgeon. "We suspected internal injury at first, but I imagine the worst he has to fear is the disfigurement. Mountain or sea air would do him good," he added reflectively. "What he will need is tone and building up."

The bishop had revolved this in his mind. He knew a place on the coast, tucked away in the cypresses, which would be admirable for convalescence. He could arrange a special car, and he himself could make the journey with him. He proposed this to the surgeon and with his approval put his plan in motion. In two days more Hugh found his going fully settled.

The idea admirably fitted his necessity. The spot the bishop had selected was quiet and retired and, more, was near the port at which he could most readily take ship for South America. Only one reflection made him shiver—the route lay through the town of Smoky Mountain. Yet who would dream of looking for a fugitive from the law in the secluded car that carried a sick man? The risk would be small enough, and it was the one way.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich. "I suffered terribly from female troubles, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

Another Operation Avoided. Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALYCE M. PINKHAM, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst cases of female troubles, including displacements, inflammation, fibroids, tumors, irregular periods, bearing-down feelings, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

WEDS A BURGLAR IN JAIL.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Clad in a milk coat, a fugitive with trimmed with ostrich plumes, Miss Martha M. Merkl, a beautiful girl of good family, yesterday was married to Harry Evans, alias Albert Brown, who is in jail awaiting trial for burglary.

"He was my sweetheart before the police got him," said the girl, "and my dreams have been shattered by the criminal charges which have been placed against him. If we were married immediately the time he spends in jail will not hang so heavy on his hands. He will clear himself and then we will live happily together."

Handcuffed to a deputy sheriff the prisoner was taken to the city clerk's office, where a license was issued. Then the bridal party returned to the jail for the ceremony.

ROOSEVELT MAY BE WITNESS.

Defendants in Oklahoma Land Case Want Him to Testify.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 18.—That President Roosevelt will be called to testify in the United States court at Muskogee when the town lot fraud cases are tried, is the general belief in Muskogee. The defendants will seek to show that the president knew of conditions in the Creek nation when he approved the report of United States Examiner Dudley Foulke of Indiana, and will allege that accusations against Gov. Haskell arose from a political plot during the campaign last year.

A MANITOWOC GIRL CREATED SENSATION

Kept Her Marriage to Marshfield Man a Secret from Friends and Family.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowoc, Wis., Feb. 18.—Maintaining secrecy as to their plans, even from family and nearest relatives, Miss Leon Seger, this city, and Philip J. Schafer of Marshfield, were married yesterday afternoon and the announcement is a surprise that created something of a sensation in social circles in which the bride is prominent as a leader. The marriage is the outgrowth of a friendship of a year and was followed by the departure of the couple for the south on a honeymoon. Miss Seger was formerly a Kewanee girl and came here two years ago to reside. Mr. Schafer is Marshfield representative of the Crok-ley & Meyer Co. of Chicago. Marshfield will be the home of the couple.
Mrs. O. W. Carrier of Waukegan, state president of the Methodist societies of the Presbyterian church, was the guest of honor of the local society in a luncheon given by Mes-sieurs C. G. and C. H. Sedgewick last evening. Following the luncheon Mrs.
Carrier gave an address, outlining the work of the local society and plans for a state-wide campaign for membership of the society.

Social War Begun
Ladies' societies of the two local Catholic churches, Sacred Heart and St. Boniface, are in a merry war for leadership in entertainment plans and considerable feuding has been engendered over the rivalry. When the Sacred Heart ladies announced a card social a few days ago, St. Boniface society came back with an announcement of a similar event the same evening. Both events were largely cancelled and it is said that because of the action of St. Boniface in conducting a competitive social, Sacred Heart will retaliate with like action whenever the other society plans an event. One danger of the fight is that it will revive the old North and South Side of the river controversy which it is admitted has done more to injure the town and hold it back than any other one thing. St.
Boniface is a South Side church and Sacred Heart a North Side organization.

New Quarry Yards
The Quarry Quarry Co., Valders, this county, will probably locate yards in this city in the near future, negotiations having been opened to this end. The company plans the move to secure better shipping facilities and if the yards are established a large stock of the product will be stored here. The company is headed by T. J. O'Brien and is an independent concern.

TRAINING SCHOOL TEACHERS' SESSION

State Superintendent of Schools Will Hold Convention of Superintendents in Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Feb. 17.—State Superintendent C. P. Cary will hold a convention of the principals of the different training schools of the state and the superintendents of the counties which have training schools. In this city Friday and Saturday, Feb.
18th and 19th, at the Wood County Training School building. Invitations have already been issued to the county superintendents and principals of training schools throughout the state and a large attendance is expected.

An effort will be made at this meeting to secure the passage of a law which will entitle the state to ten additional training schools. The present limit of twenty which was taken advantage of several years ago by too many counties, is found quite too small for present and future needs.
Another feature of the meeting will be to unify the courses of study and to secure a system which will be uniform in the several training schools.

The following is the excellent program which has been arranged for Friday and Saturday's meeting:

FORENOON OF FIRST DAY.

Course of Study.

The need of a one and two year course—Geo. F. Snyder, Reedsburg.
How for uniformity is desirable—H.
H. Liebenberg, Alma.
Subject matter that should be taken in each year—Fred Christianson, Manitowoc.

Summer sessions in training schools—

General discussion.

AFTERNOON OF FIRST DAY.

Natural Science.

What ought to be attempted, Gk.

Natural Science.

What ought to be attempted—John E.

Hale, Rice Lake.

The ideal equipment for science teachers—A. A. Thomas, Richland Center.

Best types of experiments—H. H.

Burns, Ladysmith.

FORENOON OF SECOND DAY.

Administration.

Needed legislation—M. H. Jackson, Grand Rapids.

Need of an independent organization of training school facilities—A. M.

O'Brien, Marinette.

How can the training school facilities deal with problems of the field—A.

H. Cole, Merrill.

G. L. Bowman, chairman; C. O.

Marsh, G. E. Pratt—Committee.

Gov. P. Hambrecht—Correspondent.

Illinois Mine Wrecked; 4 Lost.

Benton, Ill., Feb. 18.—A second explosion occurred in Mine 18 of the Deering Coal Company, seven miles southeast of this city yesterday. It was more severe than the one of Tuesday, which entombed four shot-fired. Soon after the first explosion a rescuing party, when about twenty feet from the bottom of the shaft, discovered the mine to be on fire and they returned to the mouth of the shaft. The second explosion wrecked the mine and it is likely the four bodies will never be recovered.

Modest Modern Man.

Whatever may be said of the modern man, he cannot be said to be lacking in modesty. While the ancients did their utmost to prove that they issued from the gods, we do our best to demonstrate that we have descended from monkeys.—London Daily Mail.

INTERESTING CHAT ON GAY NEW YORK

Letter From Gotham Relative to Hapenings of Interest in the Metropolis.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Feb. 18.—It is a deplorable but ever explicable fact that great cities never receive the recognition of their virtues and merits from their contemporaries which posterity lavishes upon their memory fifty or a hundred years after their death.
Even Washington and Lincoln, who in some measures were popular idols even in their lifetime, had to wait for their full recognition half a century or more. Washington reached the point of his heroic death comparatively a short time after his death, while Lincoln has just reached it.
Henceforth the celebrations of Lincoln's birthday were continued, almost exclusively, in the public schools of the country, or rather of the northern and western states, but almost the whole nation combined this year to fittingly observe the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

New York made special efforts to honor the memory of the great Lincoln and aside from the celebrations in the public schools more than half a hundred more or less elaborate celebrations were held in Greater New York. For weeks the newspapers of the city were full of Lincoln biographies, sketches and anecdotes and the amount of material offered to those who wish to make a study of Lincoln's character and personality is surprisingly large. Many of the stories and anecdotes, although clever, are of somewhat doubtful origin and to prove their truth would be an extremely difficult matter.

It is interesting how many experiences, adventures, opinions and sayings are attributed to great men after their death, when they are no longer in a position to defend themselves.
Lincoln has probably suffered more than Washington at the hands of imaginative story-tellers and punsters, perhaps owing to the fact that Lincoln was more a man of the people than Washington ever was and had the reputation of being somewhat of a joker and even occasionally a punster himself.

The question is still undecided whether Lincoln really was the author of the saying attributed to him, that "you can fool all people some times and some people all times, but you cannot fool all the people all the times." The recent flood of Lincoln stories and anecdotes has brought another alleged expression of Lincoln's sentiments to the surface, the authenticity of which is probably equally doubtful. At a recent women's suffrage meeting one of the speakers, a well-known suffragette, made the bold assertion that Lincoln was an advocate of women's suffrage.

Even the women forming the sympathetic audience were astounded at this startling disclosure. The speaker did not give any details as to time, place and occasion, but made the bold statement and let it go at that.

Her statement did not go unchallenged, however. One of the prominent anti-suffragists came out with an open letter in which he did not accuse the speaker of the opposition party of having manufactured the story out of whole cloth, but merely expressed his doubts concerning the authenticity of the story and demanded additional information that would enable him to verify the yarn.

Encouraged by their success in obtaining the right of suffrage in many of the western states and everything they want, excepting the right to vote in New York, the women of this city have made a demand upon the management of the subway lines to reserve several cars of each train for the exclusive use of the fair sex. So far they have not received much encouragement.

Hiram P. Maxim recently gave a public test of his new invention which makes the discharge of firearms almost entirely noiseless. The test, which was conducted in an infamous building, proved beyond doubt the efficiency of the invention. Writers on the subject of Maxim's latest achievement have laid undue stress upon the value of the device in future wars. That seems rather a small matter. Now that the trouble-makers in California have been whipped into defeat by the "big stick," the threatening war clouds have become dispersed and there is no imminent prospect of hostilities. But the celebrations of the glorious Fourth of July occur every year and that indicates a field of the most usefulness of Maxim's invention. If the Fourth could be made noiseless Maxim would indeed take the front rank among the benefactors of humanity.

"The stage is worse today than in the days of paganism," said Archbishop Parley in his sermon the other Sunday and, in elaborating upon the subject, described some of the performances "orgies of obscenity." In commenting upon that remark of Archbishop Parley the writer of a letter to one of the New York papers remarked, the criticism by the Archbishop was undoubtedly correct so far as many of the plays upon the stage at the present day, were concerned, but it came rather late. The fact that the present condition of the stage in New York is bad, he said, had been discovered long ago and was known to every patron of the theatres.

Newark, one of the busy little cities on the other side of the Hudson, is in a fair way of becoming civilized.
A plan has been suggested and is meeting with the support of the municipal authorities of purchasing the famous Rockwell collection of Japanese art objects and make it the nucleus of a municipal art museum.
Should the plan succeed Newark would get ahead of New York by a great deal, as New York has no municipal art museum. The Metropolitan Museum is really a private institution owned and controlled by J. P.
Morgan and cannot properly be called a municipal institution.

Perpetrators of practical jokes are liable to get themselves into serious trouble. The experience of a young carpenter in Manhattan bears out the truth of this statement. The other day he had a quarrel with his wife and, to play a practical joke on her, he locked himself into a room of their flat, loaded his revolver and fired two shots in the ceiling. He tried to make his wife believe that he had committed suicide. She heard the shots, but did not show any noticeable concern over them. The policeman on the beat also heard the shots and he took so much interest in the matter, that an hour later the practical joker-carpenter found himself in a cell, charged with discharging firearms within the limits of the city.

Ledyard Blair, a young millionaire of Ponapek has the distinction of having been officially recognized as the handsomest man of New Jersey and, as such, to have been selected to represent his state at the inaugural ball in Washington on the night of March 4. He was probably selected upon the theory that "handsome is who handsome does." Being a millionaire he is undoubtedly in a better condition to do "handsomely" than less wealthy men.

HORRIBLY MANGLED BODY WAS BURIED

Man Was Found in Superior Railroad Yard with Limbs Cut Off and Head Crushed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Superior, Wis., Feb. 17.—The terribly mangled body of John Kastrzewa, who is supposed to have been run over by a train, will be buried tomorrow morning. The body was found at midnight Monday night lying in the railroad yards near one of the Pittsburg coal docks. Just how the accident happened is still a mystery, but the supposition is that it was caused by a Terminal engine, two of which passed the spot where the remains were found in the early part of the night. Both limbs were severed from the body and there was a terrible gash in the head. Death occurred sometime before the remains were found.

Pastor's Wife Dead

Mrs. Ella Soule Court, wife of Rev.
F. W. Court, for the past few years pastor of the Cumming Avenue Methodist church, one of the largest churches in the city, is dead here.
Mrs. Court had been ill for over four weeks, death being caused by a complication of diseases. The circumstances surrounding the illness of the deceased caused widespread interest throughout the city and persons not acquainted with the family eagerly watched her condition from day to day. The funeral is being held this afternoon, and is one of the largest services of its kind ever conducted in the city. The service is in charge of Rev. W. F. Tomlinson of Ashland, Wis. Rev. James W. Irish of Children Park, superintendent of the Ashland district of Methodist churches, and Rev. M. S. Rice, D. D. of Duluth, pastor of the First Methodist church of that city. A brother of Mrs. Court, A. O. Soule, lives in Minneapolis. Two brothers are ministers —one in Winthrop, Minn., and the other in Grand Junction, Colo.

DIFFICULT TASK FOR MASONIC LODGE GOAT

President-Elect Taft, Who Weighs 290, Takes Ride in Cincinnati This Afternoon.

Cincinnati, Feb. 18.—The Masonic goat will have one of the most difficult as well as important tasks to perform in its life, when William Howard Taft, president-elect of the United States, is initiated this afternoon. Mr.
Taft is to become a Mason "at sight."
He weighs 290 pounds.

Grand Master Charles S. Hoskinson, who alone under the constitution of the Ohio grand lodge has the authority, will confer the honor, which is likened to the ancient honor of knighthood on the field of battle, being an honor conferred for great achievements.

Col. William D. Mellish, Past Grand Master Levi C. Goodell and Grand Lodge Secretary Jacob H. Brownwell, the committee in charge of the arrangements, had completed all the details before the arrival of the grand master, who yesterday formally put his approval on their acts.

Among the prominent Masons who are present are: Grand High Priest of the United States, Joseph Dyer of the Royal Arch Masons of Illinois; Grand Master Herbert Montague of Michigan; Grand Master Joseph L. Davenport of South Dakota, and Past Master A. B.
McCauley of Colorado, representing the grand lodge of that state.

The formal ceremony will be followed at 7:30 by the exemplification of the master's degree by the Kilwin-ing lodge, of which Judge Taft's father and brother were members and with which he will affiliate. This will be done for the new Mason's benefit.

A grand ball and reception will be given by the Hanselman Commandery, Knights Templar, at which the president-elect will be the guest of honor and will be received under the Arch of Steel, an honor conferred only on high dignitaries of the state and nation.

Miners' Election Irregular.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 18.—Irregularities found in the state election of the United Mine Workers of Illinois at Ladd and Daltell, in Bureau county, Second district, prevented the expected official announcement of the vote cast in the recent mail election from being made public by the tellers yesterday. Messengers left for Ladd and Daltell, where a new election has been called,
the result of which is expected to be known by Saturday.

Disillusioned Widows.

A writer in a Washington paper thinks that widows make the best wives and presents an interesting array of historical widows showing that the weed-wearing state is conducive to soul development that makes for the mauling of other husbands than the one for whom she mourns. She knows that a man is a contradiction before she begins and there is no danger of her losing her illusions.

The Unattainable.

Seeking the unattainable is for a man to try to find a corner in the house for some undisturbed reading without its having to be dusted ten minutes after he begins.—New York Press.
